

Lympstone Poetry Competition 2011 – Under 12's

1st Place - Poem 47

Royal Wedding

The carriage was ebony black engraved with Gold leaf in patterns just so beautiful that they could make mud look pretty.

The Italian red silk was studded with brass buttons and swirls.

The leather reins were as smooth as silk, riveted to the carriage.

Her dress was as white as the purest pearl, her train as long as the Nile, her bouquet of white lilies held by sky blue ribbon.

Her flowing dress clings then floats like feathers on a bird.

Her veil like a silver dew dropped spider's web.

His epaulettes of blue and gold hung like huge vines hanging from a tree.

His smart uniform buckled up with brass buttons.

His glossed ebony shoes with steel heels.

His black trousers hang with a sharp crease.

His medals gleam against the navy blue jacket.

Matti Adams - age 9 – year 5 Lympstone Primary School

2nd Place - Poem 42

Royal ring

As it slips on the finger,

Proud is the wearer,

Happy is the bearer,

As it slips on the finger.

As it slips on the finger it's all smiles,

Crying for the mother,

Pride for the father,

Shouts from the crowd,

As it slips on the finger.

As it slips on the finger,

Time stands still,

Everyone silent,

Waiting for the moment,

As it slips on the finger.

All this from the Royal Ring.

Joshua Bentley – age 10

3rd Place - Poem 45

Royal Wedding

In the streets we all stand waiting for the brass band.

Here come the royal guards standing so still, eventually.

Their blood rushes to their feet and then they feel quite ill.

Here comes the Golden coach and on the wheel a dead roach!

The bride and groom step up on the balcony. They have lots of room.
They cut the cake and its hard to break.
They eat it slice by slice.
Roll the gambling dice for the last piece.

The day is done and now Kate has a hun!

Alfie Blackham – age 9 – year 5 Lympstone Primary School

---

Poem 1

Kate and William's Royal Day

Kate and William are so good,
They go like two peas in a pod.
Why oh why Kate's so pretty,
and William so handsome.

The Royal Day will be fantastic,
I can't wait until it's here.
The flowers and decorations are going to be by far the best.
The wedding cake is going to be the tastiest of all.
The dress of course is going to be lovely.

Like a fairy tale come true.

Emily Jones -year 5 - St Peter's Prep School

Poem 2

The Marriage

Tick tock went the Watch
As the man in the black suit went by.
Tick tock went the Watch
As the doves went sky hi.
Tick tock went the Watch
As the bride and the groom got married.
Tick tock went the Watch
As the priest went by.
Tick tock went the Watch
As the flowers were thrown.
Tick tock went the Watch
As the bride and the groom got in to the carriage.
Tick tock went the Watch
As the reception took place.
Tick tock, tick tock, tick tock.

Chris Butterworth - age 11

Poem 3

Don't be late, Kate

Kate, Kate, don't be late for your royal date

Open the gate, Kate, for your royal date
Don't forget the cake, Kate, for your royal date
Oh no! You have gone the wrong way
You 've gone to Buckingham Palace
Get there now, quick, hurry!
On no! William has been waiting for two hours now!

Ramona Creighton - age 6 ½

Poem 4

The Wedding at Westminster Abbey

*From meeting at university,
Till the first decade of the 21st century,
Prince William and Kate
Friends becoming married,
At Westminster Abbey.*

*The date was set,
On the 29th of April.
As spring was at its best,
Big Ben will ring its bells.
For the marriage at Westminster Abbey.*

*Photographers and the Royal family,
The public waiting to set off bangers,
Parties are being held,
At the Local Town hall.
For the marriage at Westminster Abbey.*

*The men in posh suits,
And the females in dresses.
Having a great time.
Drinking champagne and expensive wine,
For the Marriage at Westminster Abbey*

*London once again,
Has a royal marriage.
The eye watches the parade,
The news was spread worldwide
About the love at Westminster Abbey.*

*The world watches the marriage,
On there TV sets.
Seeing Will and Kate get married.
England will stand proud.
For the wedding at Westminster Abbey.*

By James Harris – age 10 – St. Peters Prep School

Poem 5

THE ROYAL WEDDING!

THE ROYAL WEDDING, THE ROYAL WEDDING,
WITH FAIRY CAKES ON CHINA PLATES,
AND WAVING FLAGS THAT EVERYBODY TAKES!
SOUVENIRS, SOUVENIRS THAT'S WHAT KEEPS SHOPKEEPERS AWAKE,

WHILE SPECTATORS ARE EATING AN ICE CREAM WITH A CHOCOLATE FLAKE,
THE BRIDE AND THE GROOM, THE BRIDE AND THE GROOM TRAVELING BETWEEN HEART
SHAPED BALLOONS,
FROM WESTMINSTER ABBEY TO THEIR HONEYMOON.
PHOTOGRAPHERS CHASING THE PRINCE AND THE PRINCESS FOR THE LAST PICTURE
TO SHOW THE WORLD,
THE ROYAL WEDDING, THE ROYAL WEDDING.

Felix Leach, Age 9, St Peter's Prep School

Poem 6

THE ROYAL WEDDING

Be loyal
Stay royal
In love
The sign is a dove
You have my hart
We'll never be apart

You'll play a part
Forever in my hart
Together like a pair of doves
Both like true loves
Prince and Princess true and royal
We will always stay royal

Lisa Korving, 11, St. Peters School

Poem 7

Like you and me

Kate is like you and me.
Not special not rich.
She went to a normal school.
Had a normal house.
Had a normal life.

The waiting's over for waity Katie.
Onley 12 days to go.
No more waiting for waity Katie.
Not far to go.

Lots of bunting.
Cakes.
And dancing.
Lots of street parties.
and celebrations.
Come on waity Katie.
Not far to go.

Freddie Davies

Poem 8

A Wedding that's Royal

On this Friday, the 29th of April, 20 11,
What's so special about this day?
It's a Wedding, no ordinary wedding ,
It's a Royal wedding ;
With kings and queens,
Princes and princesses ,
Maybe even you and me;
or maybe watching it on the TV.

Catherine and William, just the pair,
Flowers and bouquet's flying in the air,
In lines and aisles the people stand,
Waiting in hope to catch a glimpse of the pair.
As quietness descends on the church while they get married, a hush as the rings are exchanged,
and then the bells ring out in celebration.

Daniella Monger – St. Peters Prep School

Poem 9

A Birds Eye View

Here I sit waiting for the bride
Fashionably late on a day full of certainty
I hear people talking about Kate, now Catherine
What kind of dress will she wear?
The smell of fresh flowers tickles my nose
I wonder what tales the Abbey can tell
I am getting restless and I can hear the crowd outside applauding
She is here and looks wonderful a lady who will be known world wide
As she enters with her father by her side as the music plays
I fly above it all happy that I have rested here on this special day.

Darcey Stonecliffe, St Peter's School

Poem 10

Let's Celebrate!

Let's celebrate,
Celebrate what?

The marriage of Prince Will and Kate,
There'll be flowers in the street,
We'll shake hands with everyone we meet,
Because we just want to celebrate.

Kate is all in white,
Her beauty shining bright,
As she walks down the aisle,
We'll cheer and smile,
William's medals are ablaze,
As he gazes upon her face,
Look at them. They just want to celebrate.

Will they come by carriage?
Will they live in a castle with a moat?
Or will they live in a modern house
And come by speedboat?
Let's celebrate whatever they do!

Historians the wedding day they are marking,
With the Queen's corgi dogs barking,
Will and Kate listen to the royal band,
As they put a ring on each other's hand,
Let's celebrate and wish them the very best!

Rebekah Wajed – age 10 - St Peter's Prep School

Poem 11

The Royal Wedding

Kate and William walking down the aisle,
Looking happy together as they wait to get married,
With Kate's prince her wonderful prince,
William is lucky to have a Special lady like Kate.

We will be celebrating in our streets,
With cakes and lots of flags everywhere,
Let's hope we have the sun,
While everyone having fun.

André Orchard, 10, St Peters Prep School

Poem 12

The Royal Wedding

Princess Catherine will be a most beautiful bride,
Shiny, long, chestnut hair and bright eyes are her pride,
She will wear a white dress and stunning, lace veil,
To Westminster Abbey, her Rolls Royce will not fail.

Prince William will be her tall, handsome groom,
A fond Royal member in smart wedding costume,
He will carry a precious, shining, jewelled ring,
And during the church service all voices will sing.

By horse-drawn stagecoach to the Palace they go,
Waving from the balcony to the happy crowds below,
Next a spectacular feast, street parties and doves,
A happy Royal Couple. Everlasting love.

James Potts – age 5

Poem 13

Royal Friday

*William has known you for a while Kate
You are his dream, One day to be our Queen
Give your hearts to one another,
Stand along side each other for ever and ever*

*The Best of British you are
And the finest Royal Couple by far
Our future King and Queen to be
To run Great Britain as it should be*

*Congratulations on your Royal Wedding,
Have a wonderful life,
You are two very special people,
Now teamed up as man and wife*

Sadia Hallam – age 10 - St. Peters Prep School

Poem 14

A Royal Surprise

The anticipation is rising in the atmosphere,
As everyone waits ... Just waits... in utter silence.
Kate & William have made there promises,
And are off to Buckingham Palace,
Where a real sight awaits!

A vision of white, flowing lusciousness
Lavishly encrusted with jewels like no other.
As Kate & William walk through ,the palace
The guests get a glimpse of what lies ahead.

As everyone takes their seats in Reception ,
Again there is silence
... Until,
Suddenly the doors burst open.
Behold,
The magnificent Cake is here!
It towers high over the crowd,
The white icing as pure as a cloud.
Covered in sugar crafted delights,
I can only dream of being one of the lucky few who get a bite.

Felix Jones – age 10 – St. Peters Prep School

Poem 15

Duplicate

Poem 16

The royal wedding

The gleaming carriage shining gold
As William and Kate take the throne a
And off to the palace they go,
Going through the London city
Smiling and waving as they go

The crowd is going wild as they draw near.
Jess Phillips – age 7 - class 3 Lympstone Primary School

Poem 17

Royal Wedding

Royal weddings on
Oxes are running around
Yellow is nice as stripes
After the wedding we have cake
Life is nice

“William” cried the bride

Harvey Spiller – age 7 – class 3 Lympstone Primary School

Poem 18

Royal wedding

Red white and blue flags
Oh! What a sight
Your wedding will be great
At Westminster Abbey
Loyal buddies forever

Why Kate’s so beautiful
Everlasting love
Disaster Kate’s eaten all the cake
Down we bow to the future king and queen
“I am the future king” says William
Now we will be friends forever
Go to the wedding

William Henderson (not prince) - age 6 - class 3 Lympstone Primary School

Poem 19

The Royal Day

Clapping and cheering
All over town
When Kate and William
Walk down the town
In her white dress
To Westminster Abbey
Some soldiers are fainting
from standing too long
Don’t eat all the cake
Don’t miss
the party Kate!

Ben Watkins age 7 - class 3 Lympstone Primary School

Poem 20

Royal Wedding

Royal wedding is on
Oh! Prince William is late
You will marry me
A marriage

Life with William

Woe the wedding is going to start
Exhausted from the wedding
Dancing on the stage
Dance the audience are glad
Inside the church
Not marrying you
Gigantic cake

Thomas King - age 7 - class 3 Lympstone Primary School

Poem 21

Royal flags waving
Oh my gosh it's raining
You shall be married
Amazing sight
Love forever

Westminster Abbey
Eat all the cake
Double wedding cake
Delicious food
Imagine the wedding
Now go to the wedding
Give the cake to me

Ramona Creighton - age 7 - class 3 Lympstone Primary School

Poem 22

Royal day for the UK
Obey the Queen of England
Yelling people say hooray
Amazing things go on
Lovely Kate comes down the aisle

Weddings are a sign of love
Everyone is excited
Don't be late for your date Kate
Dying for love
I, do
Nervous bride
Groom

Noah Lowery - age 7 - class 3 Lympstone Primary School

Poem 23

Royal Wedding

Oh Kate, you're late for your Royal date,
Y oh why must I be late for every party?
A sign on my watch thought William (Kate must be waiting)
Late again, oh no!

Wedding
Excited crowds watching.

Don't be late Kate
Date is 29th April.
Important people, dressing up
Narrow path to the gate.
Gold, diamonds to the gate (I must be precious).

Jay Hutt - age 7 - class 3 Lympstone Primary School

Poem 24

Royal wedding

Our King and Queen
Yes! I do!
Abbey of Westminster
Lovely Kate

Weddings
Everyone's happy
Dazzling jewellery
Do eat the cake
I love you
Nervous Queen
Glistening soldiers

Dylan Jones – age 6 - class 3 Lympstone Primary School

Poem 25

Royal day for the UK
Our Queen is coming
Yellow is the colour of the crown
A love for them to cherish
Love is forever

Weddings are a sign of love
Everyone is cheering
Do eat the cake
Dazzling colours
I love you
News about the wedding
Groom is our future King.

Noah Lowery - age 7 - class 3 Lympstone Primary School

Poem 26

Red bells shining in the streets
Oh! It's our royal wedding
Yellow sun shining bright
A royal wedding today hooray
Look theres the Queen

Wait for the Queen
Excited people
Doughnuts for the party
Drinks for the party
Inside the Palace
Nice people
Guitar music while the bride and groom dance.

Callum Tose - age 7 - class 3 Lympstone Primary School

Poem 27

Royal wedding

Oh Kate you are the best in the world.
Your wedding is great
A wedding is fun
Let's go in!

Harry Reynolds - age 7 - class 3 Lympstone Primary School

Poem 28

Royal Kate, don't be late, we are already eating the wedding cake,
Oh! Kate we don't want you to be late.
You are late Kate, the bride is often late.
Are you always this late, the Queen is waiting?
Late Kate, why are you late?

Why are you late, Kate?
Eight people have gone, Kate?
Dinner is here, Kate!
Dinner has ended, Kate!
I am leaving, Kate!
Now I really must go, Kate!
Get on Kate! The wedding has ended!

Toby Culliford - age 7 - class 3 Lympstone Primary School

Poem 29

The Royal day

Clapping and cheering
All over town
When Kate and William come
Walking down the town
In her white dress
To Westminster Abbey.

Some soldiers are fainting
For standing too long
Don't eat all the cake and
Don't miss the party Kate.

Red, white and blue kites
All over Britain.
People cheering as Kate walks down.

Aanother- age 7 - class 3 Lympstone Primary School

Poem 30

Red bells tinkling in the streets
Oh yes! We are getting married.
Yes! We will kiss.
A Royal Wedding today HOORAY
Look there's lots of people here today.

We're getting married today.
Everyone is having a good time.

Dresses are what the girls are wearing.
Do the wedding.
It is the wedding day today.
New people will have weddings today.
Getting married.

Billy Worthington - age 7 - class 3 Lympstone Primary School

Poem 31

Royal art for your part.
Oh no, now I am late.
Yes, now you are late.
At last, you're here, but where is William?
Lots of noise in the crowd, here is William, we are proud.

Weddings are good because of the bride.
Everyday is a change because of the cake.
Dinner is the best ever.
Dinner is good but the Queen is the best.
I know that Kate is great.
Nearly time, Kate, for your date.
Gigantic chocolate is late!

Freya Houlding - age 7 - class 3 Lympstone Primary School

Poem 32

Kate, run for all you are worth,
William's waiting.....
Oh no! Kate's too late!

Freddie Bungard – age 6 - class 3 Lympstone Primary School

Poem 33

Kate's big day
Kate go to see at the gate
If Prince William is in his Royal Carriage
Buy the dress and curl your hair
Don't worry about the cameras
Or the carriage!

Oh no! Don't panic,
Prince William is coming
Down the drive.
Just hope Prince William is late.

Drive to the Palace
Get married
Oh no! Now the soldiers have
Fainted in the heat!

Max Richards - class 3 Lympstone Primary School

Poem 34

The Royal Day
Red and blue and white kites
All over Britain.
And all of the people are singing
"Here comes the Bride"
"Here comes the Bride"

Kate is smiling and so is William
The wedding goes on.....

Evelyn Watts - age 7 - class 3 Lympstone Primary School

Poem 35

William, Kate is waiting for you.
Kate, why are you eating the wedding cake?
William, how long can you wait?
They are late for their wedding day!

Thomas McSevney - age 7 - class 3 Lympstone Primary School

Poem 36

Listen to the bells
Sparkling in the summer sun
Listen to the flags fluttering in the sun.

Yellow is the colour of a crown.
Look, there are lots of people here today.
Yes, it is the wedding day today Hurray!

Listen to the people cheering and clapping
As the carriage draws near.
Kate and William are waving
We are waving back at them.
The Queen is waving her hat at them.

Tom Hustwayte - class 3 Lympstone Primary School

Poem 37

Happily as people stand close together hand in hand
As the gates open fling and all the people sing
An abbey so fine celebrate with wine
Cheering fills up the hall happiness in us all
The kissing at the altar there is nothing that can falter
The crowds of people shout out loud and the mother feeling proud
Will this be ever after? Or will he depart from her?
The confetti thrown around children now sleep safe and sound
The hope of everlasting links, make everyone in this world think.
The epic event so supreme could this just be a dream?
A wonderful memory in our head will last until we are dead

Zachary Summerfield - St Peter's Prep School

Poem 38

Royal wedding

Happy faces
All over places
Red, blue and white
Will be hanging up tonight
Parties in the street
People come to meet

It's a new day
For the UK

A new life
For Kate and William
Lots of people
Busy getting ready

Emelia Mundy - class 3 Lympstone Primary School

Poem 39

The Royal Wedding

The Royal wedding is going to start
On the 29th April 2011
The day the date is always the way
To be happy and smiley
And with the day
There will be bunting and decorations All over the world
Smiley faces everywhere
Up and down and all around

Lily Rochester - class 3 Lympstone Primary School

Poem 40

The Royal Day

Happy faces in the town
Soon the cheering will go down
Red, blue and white
Will be up tonight
Kate has the wedding cake

It's a brand new day
For the UK
There's pretty flowers
Through the hours
Horses and carriages
Going through the town
Going up and down

Hannah Phillips - class 3 Lympstone Primary School

Poem 41

The Royal Wedding

Happy faces all over the world
Parties all over Britain.
Bunting all over the place
People wearing smart and pretty clothes
Red, blue and white
Feathers all over hats
Noises from jets and aeroplanes,
You can hear for miles.
What will she be wearing?
Pink, blue, yellow or white,
Who knows?
Not me.
Will she kiss on the balcony or not?
Everyone is getting ready
For the big day.
I wonder how they are feeling,
Sad, happy, excited, nervous?
No one knows.

Eva Allington - class 3 Lympstone Primary School

Poem 43

Duplicate

Poem 44

The Royal Wedding

Princess Kate and Prince William walking up the stairs so gracefully.
Millions and billions of people waiting silently for them to walk out onto the balcony.
Children cheering for the happy couple.
Grown ups smiling for the future King and Queen.
Grace Tipping - age 9 – year 5 Lympstone Primary School

Poem 46

Royal Wedding

Royal Prince William is getting married to lovely Kate.
On the balcony they stand, hand in hand.
Yelling people jump and cheer.
A lot of people jump and shove to see the happy couple above.
Lots of people try to get a tiny glimpse of the couple.

We gather round and they come out, the noise goes up as the crowds begin to shout.
Everyone cheers for them to kiss.
Dead gorgeous Kate on the high balcony.
Don't count on seeing them you might not.
In the cathedral the vicar says "You may kiss the bride"
Not everyone cheers, some are in tears.
Getting there is tiring, but worth it.

Matthew Wright - age 9 – year 5 Lympstone Primary School

Poem 48

Royal Wedding

Rushing through crowds of thousands of people.
Overhead I can see the happy couple.
Young children trying to get a glimpse.
A group of people waving Union Jacks.
Licking my ice cream as I go.

We are trying to see the Prince.
Entering bigger and better spaces.
Distressed people.
Delighted people catching a glimpse of the couple.
I am getting bored I can't see a thing.
Never ending.
Getting going, Nearly home.

Scott Acheson – age 8 – year 5 Lympstone Primary School

Poem 49

Royals get ready,
Organisations get ready,
Youngsters get ready,
Adults get ready,
Love is everywhere!

William and Kate are in the church,
Everyone is gathered,
Ding Dong!
Doves fly high!
In the sky,
Now they are married
Good Luck for the future!

Greer Walker - age 7 - year 3 Lympstone Primary School

Poem 50

Roses are red
Thistles are blue
Daffodils are pretty
And so are you

Amelia Allington - age 5 – Class 1 Lympstone Primary School

Poem 51

Roses are red
Thistles are blue
Daffodils are beautiful
And so are you

Devon Moffatt - age 5 – Class 1 Lympstone Primary School

Poem 52

Roses are red
Thistles are blue
Shamrocks are pretty
And you are too

Morgan Lowery - age 5 – Class 1 Lympstone Primary School

Poem 53

Roses are red
Thistles are blue
Daffodils are lovely
And so are you

Finlay Roberts - age 5 – Class 1 Lympstone Primary School

Poem 54

Roses are red
Thistles are blue
Daffodils are sweet
And so are you

Amber Milne - age 5 – Class 1 Lympstone Primary School

Poem 55

Roses are red
Thistles are blue
Shamrocks are lovely
And so are you

Phoebe Hartley-Norton – Class 1 Lympstone Primary School

Poem 56

Roses are red
Thistles are blue
Daffodils are posh
And so are you

Ellie Rendle - age 5– Class 1 Lympstone Primary School

Poem 57

Roses are red
Thistles are blue
Shamrocks are sweet
And so are you

James Netherton - age 5 – Class 1 Lympstone Primary School

Poem 58

Royal Wedding

The royal couple,
Their love is supple
the strongest love in the world
It will not break
Even if hurled

Kate she was commoner
Just like you or me
But then Prince Will thought
"She's the one for me!"
Will she take it for granted?
That, I'd like to see

Will Banks – age 10

Poem 59

The Prince and Princess' Poem

The Royal's are getting wed

---

People were happy

---

Kate went through the gate

---

William looked smart

---

Harry held the ring

---

Oh it would be a shame

---

?? – Class 2 – Lympstone Primary School

Poem 60

Rose are red
On TV the Royal Wedding is going to be
Yellow Crown
All of you must eat the cake
Loads of people

Weddings are full of love
Entertaining wedding
Do eat the cake
Don't be late Prince William and Kate!
Inside will be enjoyable
No putting bombs in the wedding
Give her a kiss.

Maya – Class 2 – Lympstone Primary School

Poem 61

Roses
Orange dress
Yellow crown
Always love
London it will be

Watch the TV
Everyone will be watching
Dresses and cakes
Dress will be flowery
No rain I hope
Give me the cake!

Alani – Class 2 – Lympstone Primary School

Poem 62

Really Excited
Oh I hope it doesn't rain!
Yellow crown
All soldiers are standing still
Lovely roses

Westminster Abbey
Eating cakes
Delicious food
Delicious cakes
Invited to the wedding
No putting bombs there!
Groom is waiting.

Ellie – Class 2 – Lympstone Primary School

Poem 63

Ring
Orange dress
Yellow dress
A lot of people
Love each other

Westminster Abbey
Do look at the cake
Do not say no!
I hope I see the Queen!
Niceness

Gold crown.

Cameron & Sonny – Class 2 – Lymestone Primary School

Poem 64

Royal wedding
Oh not raining please
Yellow crowns
A lot of people
Lovely day

William is late
Everyone is cheering
Delicious cake
Don't drop the rings!
I hope Princess Kate is not late
Nice dress
Great flag

Anna & Gabrielle – Class 2 – Lymestone Primary School

Poem 65

Royal wedding
Oh no! I hope it doesn't rain
Yellow crown
A lot of people
Let's go to the wedding!

We hope it will be good
Everyone is going to be there!
Don't eat any of the cake!
Don't peek at the cake
I hope no-one takes the cake!
No one wants to take the cake
Give the cake to us!

Joseph & Daniel A – Class 2 – Lymestone Primary School

Poem 66

Roses are red
Oh gosh! I hope it doesn't rain!
Yellow crown
A slice of cake will do
Look at her veil

Will I be late?
Every bride does not want to be
D
Don't be afraid
I hope Kate isn't too late
No Kate! Do not be afraid
Go and have some cake!

Francesca – Class 2 – Lympstone Primary School

Poem 67

Royal wedding
Oh my gosh it is raining!
Yellow crown
A big cake
Let's go to the wedding!

We hope it will be good
Everyone will be cheering
Don't eat al of the cake
Don't eat too much food
I love you
Now go to the wedding
Give the cake to me.

Freddie & Robert – Class 2 – Lympstone Primary School

Poem 68

Royal wedding
Oh what a lovely cake
Yay! It's my favourite day!
A bit of cake
Love

Wedding has arrived
Everybody is cheering
Don't be late Kate
Don't eat the cake
I love you
Now we get married
Grand prize.

Daniel M-F & Matthew – Class 2 – Lympstone Primary School

Poem 69

Royal Prince and Princess walk down the aisle
Oh Kate is late
Yellow flowers
Army boys
Love each other

Westminster Abbey
Even I'm watching it
Decorations in the church
Dress looks wonderful
Is there a lot of people?
No-one will take the cake
Golden crown.

Archie & Marisa – Class 2 – Lympstone Primary School

Poem 70

Roses are red and silver rings
On the TV is the wedding
Yellow daffodils
A cake is at the wedding
Love you so so much

Westminster Abbey
Everything must not go wrong
Dragons might be there
Do not say no
I am going to the wedding
No! William must not be late
Get ready Kate!

Maisie – Class 2 – Lympstone Primary School

Poem 71

Royal wedding
Oh no! Is it going to rain
Yellow colours
Amazing wedding
Lovely wedding

Wedding is nice
Enjoy the wedding
Dress is nice
Do not drink too much
I love you
Nice marines
Glorious wedding.

Scarlett & Bethan – Class 2 – Lympstone Primary School

Poem 72

Royal wedding
Orange dress
Yelling crowd
A lot of people
Love each other

Walk down the aisle
Elephants might be there and a horse
Don't fall over!
Don't say no!
In Westminster Abbey
Nervous Katie
Got a ring.

Jake & Alfie – Class 2 – Lympstone Primary School