

THE LYPMPSTONE HERALD

BIG TURN OUT FOR BOXING DAY SWIM

There was a great turn out for this year's swim with a large number of both children and adults braving the water. Lots of people came to watch and cheer them on and the club raised over £200 via contributions and refreshments. Half will go to RNLI and half to the club.

Before next month's issue don't miss the village Quiz Night and the Village

Concert set to keep us entertained through the winter weeks.

Thank you to everyone who has supported The Herald by sending their artwork, articles, photos, thoughts and comments. We endeavour to provide a positive outlook on village life so please keep the enthusiastic contributions coming.

With Christmas in mind we always double the prize money in the December draw - and the lucky £50 winner this time was Carol Brister, I overlooked to announce the November winner in last month's Herald so make up for it now - our £25 winner for November was Heather Stratford.

Happy New Year from Cllr Jenny Clark, Chairman of Lymington Parish Council.

Phew! What a year it has been. Last year the Parish Council was heavily involved in the development of the new Pre-school building. We all knew that this was essential to ensure that our community continued to be sustainable. Now Lymington children can be looked after and educated from the age of 2 to 11, when they will go on to a senior school. This also helps to secure our Primary school for the future. The Parish Council decided, about two and a half years ago that if there was to be a new building, then it should be sited next to the Youth Club in Candy's Field. A series of lively public meetings were held and this view was fully endorsed. Ideally we would have had a new Youth Club building too and these could have swapped places so that the Pre-school could still have access to its excellent outdoor facilities. Unfortunately this did not happen but the result that we can now see is excellent and we all wish the staff and children of Lymington Pre-school every success in their new 'home'.

During the year, Eddie Mingo and his daughter Lauren told us that they felt that it was time they handed over the reins of the Lymington Youth Club to new people. Eddie and Lauren have run the Youth Club for seven years and it has been a great credit to them and a great facility for the children of the village. During that time some works had been carried out but the building was due for some refreshing. The Parish Council own the building and will readily admit that things had slipped a bit.

A task force was set up, ably led from the front by Cllr Phil Corcos with the help of other volunteers. The building now looks much smarter inside and out and has some exciting new equipment and activities for children to enjoy.

The Parish Council continues to look for volunteers to support the Youth Club to keep it a happy place for our children. A paid Youth Leader, Sue Briggs, has been appointed and she is supported by a team of volunteers and put many voluntary hours in herself. If you think that you would like to play a part in the Youth Club, whether you are a parent or not please contact Sue at the Youth Club hut on a Friday evening or contact any Parish Councillor. (Names and details are on the website and the Parish Notice Boards.)

During last year we said goodbye to Cllrs Rory Estcourt and Malcolm Lyon. Rory has moved away but Malcolm continues to play a leading role in the Village in other ways. We have been very fortunate to find two new Councillors. Rob Hilton joined the Parish Council on 9th January 2017 and John Montgomery has joined us on 5th January. Rob has already made a great contribution by taking over the editorship of the Lymptone Herald from Cllr Chris Carter.

The Parish Council is starting 2018 at full strength and our finances are in good order with some reserves to meet new challenges.

Lymptone FC needs help. Youth Football is the victim of its own success. It now desperately needs a new pitch in the Parish so that the 140+ youngsters involved in Youth Football (Girls and Boys) can continue to play successfully. The Parish Council has agreed to work with the Club to try to find a suitable pitch. If you are a landowner in the area and feel that you might be able to rent, lease or sell some land for a pitch to provide a space for the young footballers to play competitively, please contact the Club or a Parish Councillor with your ideas.

Flooding continues to be a risk in parts of the Parish. With funding from Devon Community Foundation and under the leadership of Cllr Phil Corcos, the Parish now has 20+ Flood Warden volunteers and two sets of First Response flood protection equipment. Further information on recent developments on page 11.

Finally, the Parish Council has set its budget for next year. This sets out how the money that you, the Council tax payers, contribute to Parish Council funds. The Parish Council heard requests that its share of your Council Tax should not increase this year and so the budget has been drawn up to respect this and so the amount that you pay for local things will not change this year.

LYMPSTONE MUMMERS

Lypstone Mummers would like to thank the gentlefolk of Lypstone for turning out in such noisy numbers two nights before Christmas, for enjoying our interpretation of their traditional village play, and for generously giving more than £250 to the Children's Society. The play was also taken to Exmouth and Topsham earlier in the month, though our customary performance on the train from the latter was terminated mid fight by the Train Manager, who instructed the troupe to "sit down and be quiet"! King George et al obeyed meekly, but drowned their sorrows on arrival at the Sailing Club – a night which netted a further £140 in all. The grand total for less fortunate children this year amounted to £450.01, which we think might be best yet. See you again in December!

PARISH CHURCH

Publication of new book about the Church's Stained Glass Windows. Brian Ridge has had a long term interest and hobby of studying stained glass. In particular he has studied every separate panel of the 'Stained Glass Windows of the Church of the Nativity of the Blessed Virgin Mary, Lymptstone.' The result is a beautifully illustrated book which is now available for £15 a copy. The book describes the provenance of the individual windows, many of which are quite special, with anecdotal interludes on the villager personalities involved. Available from Brian Ridge: Tel: (01395) 275432; e-mail: brianridge@lympstone.eclipse.co.uk All proceeds in aid of Church.

LYMPSTONE HISTORY SOCIETY

You can see our 2018 programme on our notice-board under the railway arch. Our first talk is on Thursday 22nd February when local archaeologist Charlotte Coles will give an illustrated talk on the history of clay pipes. As usual, all our 2018 talks will be on Thursday evenings (7.30pm) in the Methodist Hall.

Meanwhile our new series of booklets is growing: we have two already issued and two currently in development. 'Devon Boy, 1590' (£4.50) is the story of a Lymptone boy growing up in Elizabethan times and becoming involved in the Newfoundland cod trade. Written by Jenny Moon this booklet uses a storytelling approach to illuminate what life was like at the time. The second booklet 'Cooking and Eating in a Devon Village: A Historical Scrapbook' (£3) provides a tasty mixture of historical snippets and modern recipes which use locally found ingredients that were commonly used in the past – like the three-cornered leek, cottagers kale, and sea-beet that grow prolifically in and around Lymptone. We have further booklets in development – thanks to those people who have contributed their artwork for our 'Sketches of Lymptone' booklet, which we hope to have ready by Easter.

Copies of the booklets can be purchased at our events, or from Graham Banks at Clays, The Strand, Lymptone. Or you can email us at lympstonehistorysociety@gmail.com

LYMPSTONE WI

January Meeting

Our speaker was Kay McCormick/Elizabeth Ducie explaining the challenges of working in 1990's Soviet Union and Russia in the pharmaceutical business, of offering advice and guidance on our European standards of quality control and quality assurance. Kay's experience was cold but rewarding, she was able to enjoy the local art and culture of which the people are so proud. On completion of her professional career, Kay has used her technical knowledge to create novels. Her parting shot was to recommend rolling naked in the snow!

The Committee deemed the Christmas party a great success with festive fare and great entertainment; they have arranged for our archive to be stored by the History Society at the Village Hall and have offered sponsorship to Lucia Ellis for her VSO trip to Nigeria.

The meeting voted to continue to use the Methodist Hall rather than the Village Hall.

The meeting also voted firstly to support the resolution on Mental Health Matters, recognising the importance of parity between mental and physical health, and secondly the resolution to Stop Female Genital Mutilation.

We can look forward to a January dinner at the Redwing and a delicious lunch in the Sailing Club in February.

Anyone who may be interested in Lymptstone WI will always be welcomed.

Find us on the village website or come along on the first Wednesday of the month to the Methodist Hall at 2.30pm. The speaker at our meeting on Feb 7th will be by Alan Pewsey telling us about Dartmoor Search and Rescue.

FLOOD MANAGEMENT ISSUES

RECENT WEATHER EVENTS

Our dedicated team of flood wardens were out in force during the period of strong wind, heavy rain and high tide at the beginning of January. I am pleased to report that there was no serious flooding but there was localised flood water on several roads in the village.

NEW PROJECT

Good progress has been made on setting up a major project to review the flood risk in Lympstone and to identify and implement measures to reduce the risk (where appropriate). Led by Lympstone Parish Council, through its Flood Resilience Group, the project has the full support of the Environment Agency (EA). In addition to the EA, the Project Steering Group will include representatives of DCC, EDDC, South West Water, and other interested parties. This will help to ensure the project's success. The first phase of work (the flood risk assessment) is due to commence in early 2018 and will involve hydraulic modelling by consultants appointed by the EA. Overall, the project is likely to continue for up to 3 years, and we will keep you informed of progress.

YOUR INVOLVEMENT

The above project is a great opportunity for the village. To make the most of it, we need your help and support. Right now, we would really appreciate:

- any photos or videos of past floods (preferably identifying the date and location)
- information on any particular problems or issues that we might not be aware of.

Please send the above (together with any questions or requests for further information) to philcorcos@gmail.com (Tel. 01395 272973).

LYMPSTONE LIVES

RICHARD CRISP has always enjoyed a volunteering dimension to his life, be it as a rally organiser & competitor with a motor club, Scouts as his son grew up, then WEA thereafter both in York and Exeter. Past chairman of Lympstone Twinning Association and Company secretary of the Norman Lockyer Observatory at Sidmouth, he is currently a trustee of the Village Hall and membership secretary of the Lympstone Fishery & Harbour Association.

How did you come to live in Lympstone?

I was born in Bristol, but after 25 years as a physicist at Rowntrees/Nestlé 'up north' in York, I wanted to move to an estuary in the West Country. Wife Anne, a "Lincolnshire Yellowbelly", stipulated that the SW was fine, but Cornwall was too far for our two children living in London to visit easily, so in spite of my Cornish roots (my mother's maiden name was Trethowan), Devon was the focus.

Rodney Dingle, who had been my tutor and rowing coach at Bryanston School, had been living in Church Road for some time. I had visited him in the intervening years, so Lympstone became the clear choice. I retired on a Friday and moved from a hamlet near York to a proper village, Lympstone, the following Monday!

What is the best thing about living in the village compared with a Yorkshire hamlet?

We knew everyone in our hamlet and quite a few in the surroundings, but we went to town for activities. Here, our friends are those with whom we share local activities. Lympstone's choice is renown. For me, retirement activity initially focused on the Sailing Club (Newsletter editor for 10 years), sailing and motorboating whilst for Anne, art, gardening, allotments, and dancing.

15 years on, I no longer sail a dinghy, but messing about in (and with) my motorboat is still a favourite occupation whilst serving on the Harbour Board.

Changes in Lympstone

Some dislike change without realising that their being here is part of that continuing change. At the harbour, I've witnessed the change from the simplicity of room for all, to the bureaucratic reality of an oversubscribed resource. Is this a sign of a healthy community? Or rather an indicator of overcrowding spoiling the special values of our community?

What is one thing that would improve Lympstone life?

Better weather for boating!

DINNER WITH THE PLAYERS LEADS TO CHARITY DONATION

'Dinner with Friends' was an enthralling combination of music from Simon Ellis and two One Act plays by Tom Stoppard and AA Milne, put on by Lymptstone Players in early December. The production went down extremely well, with sell out performances on all 3 nights. Using the popular 'café theatre' format, the audience were treated to a three course meal between the performances, cooked by local supporter Dave Whitton and charged at cost. As a result, the Players are delighted to announce that they have been able to make a donation of nearly £500 to Dave's nominated charities of Mind and Diabetes UK out of the takings for 'Dinner with Friends'.

PLAYERS PRODUCTION IN JUNE

It's never too soon to start planning the next production! The Players are considering putting on a play by Alan Ayckbourn in June 2018, to be directed by Sharon Wayland. Ayckbourn plays are known for skilled writing, humour and interesting characters which go to create productions that casts love to be part of and audiences love to watch. Auditions for the play are on Feb 8th and rehearsals start in April with the production scheduled for 14, 15 and 16 June. To find out more, and to express interest, please contact Sharon Wayland on sharonwayland@yahoo.co.uk.

LYMPSTONE YOUTH TEAMS STORM IN TO CUP & PLATE SEMI FINALS

Lympstone Under 11s Match Report

Lympstone Spartans under 11 s started off in determined mood having much of the play but where unable to find the breakthrough! Jack Ward through on goal twice hitting the post on one occasion and forcing a smart save from the Feniton goalkeeper. Feniton dug in and held on until the 15th minute when Lympstone made the breakthrough from an own goal due to relentless pressure! 5 mins later and Charlie Cardwell popped up to score! With Isaac Halliday making vital tackles in centre midfield and Sol Onoyiweta playing some nice one twos with various players and a solid defence Lympstone went into the break with a 2 goal cushion. Lympstone soaked up some early pressure in the 2nd half and conceded a goal which was unstoppable! This was the wake up call needed for the Spartans as the introduction of Jack Smith brought the 3rd goal! Another 2 strikes followed shortly after from Jack Ward to make it 5-1. Lympstone a constant threat going forward whilst a back 3 of Callum Gore, Tom Case and Samuel Briggs where solid at the back. Lympstone had the opportunity for a 6th 5 mins from time when Sol Onoyiweta was played through beating the defender for pace only to be denied by a superb save! Lympstone Spartans under 11's march into the semifinals.

Lympstone Under 15's Match Report

Lympstone Under 15's welcomed West Exe in the Plate quarter final and it wasn't long before Lympstone forwards, Finn Doyle and Matt Miller linked up for Matt Miller to send a shot fizzing towards the West Exe goal to test the keeper.

With Jack Mckie and Jory Salter in the midfield Lympstone had most of the early possession and it wasn't long before Billy Phillips' penetrating runs on the right wing sent a ball in to the six yard box for Liam McManus to come close. From the resulting clearance George Harding crossed the ball straight back in to the danger zone for Finn Doyle to make a brave leap against the West Exe keeper and head the ball home to make it 1-0 at half time.

The second half saw West Exe throw players forward to attempt a break through, but some fantastic defending led by captain Sam Phillips, Scott Simpson Curry and George Harding kept the West Exe attack outside the penalty area with the odd long range effort never troubling keeper Ryan Bowyer.

Lympstone still threatened on the break with Billy Phillips coming close to doubling the score but the one goal was enough to see Lympstone through to the semi final.
